

International Council of Environmental Law

ICEL SYMPOSIUM

15 November 2019 16:00 – 18:00

The Future of Migratory Species Laws In An Age of Changing Climates

Aula 11.1.16, Campus Getafe Cómo llegar

Universidad Carlos III de Madrid

Instituto Pascual Madoz del territorio, urbanismo y medio ambiente

Welcome & Introduction:

Evolution of Migration of Species in the Anthropocene: Beyond the Bonn

Convention on Migratory Species”

Prof. Nicholas A. Robinson, ICEL Executive Governor (New York)

“Voices of the Pacific Flyway”

First European Screening of a short documentary (2019), prepared by the intergovernmental Commission on Environmental Cooperation, with the Cornell Lab of Ornithology and Mexican National Commission for Knowledge and Use of Biodiversity [Conabio] and U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and other partners

New Challenges for Environmental Laws

Panel Presentations and Discussion:

Moderator: Minister (ret.) Reinhard Josef Krapp (Germany), ICEL Governor.

Perspectives from the Americas: Dr. Victor Tafur ICEL Representative to the UN.

Trends in South East Asia & ASEAN: Prof. Koh Kheng Lian, ICEL

Representative to ASEAN Africa's Migrations: Prof. Patricia Kameri-Mbote, ICEL Governor

Connectivity Conservations Initiatives & CMS Update: Aaron Laur, Center for Landscape Conservation.

European Outlooks: Prof. Eckard Rehbinder and Prof. Malcolm Forster, ICEL Governors

Closing:

Sustainability, the UN SDGs, and Flora & Fauna

Prof. Teresa Parejo Navajas, Head of Sustainability Department IBERIA and ICEL Governor

Entrada libre hasta completar aforo. Se ruega confirmación a través de un correo con el asunto "ICEL SYMPOSIUM", haciendo constar nombre, apellidos y la ocupación de cada persona asistente, que se enviará a la siguiente dirección:

instituto.pascualmadoz@uc3m.es

Posteriormente se enviará certificado por vía electrónica a quienes hayan acreditado asistencia.